

Joint Lead for AaE: Teaching and Training in the Workplace

Dr Jo Kerr, Consultant Anaesthetist

After completing her training in Mersey, Dr Jo Kerr has been a Consultant Anaesthetist at Yeovil District Hospital for fifteen years, College Tutor for six and Core Anaesthetics Training Programme Director for the Severn School of Anaesthesia and ICM for the past three years.

Interested in post-graduate teaching since a trainee, she completed the Certificate of Medical Education and has been instrumental in developing new courses and workshops locally and nationally.

In her spare time she practises her education techniques by attempting to teach her hobbies of sailing, cycling and skiing to her three children and her dog, with varying degrees of success
