ANTS pre-course reading list

Here is a list of some reading material you may find of interest prior to coming on the ANTS course. This is not mandatory reading, but you may find it useful.

Papers related to the development of ANTS:

Papers relating to the categories and concepts in the ANTS framework

General Human Factors in Health Care Reading:

These two books provide excellent overviews of human factors related to healthcare. The second is more of a ‘novel’ and is a very easy and interesting read.
